

SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 30.

A DISPATCH from Indianapolis says: "John C. New, consul general at London, will return here within two or three weeks. He will resign from the national committee and give all his time to Harrison's campaign." By this it seems that not only are the foreign missions to be abandoned, but even the consulates, in order that their occupants may come home to "work" for the renomination and reslection of President Harrison. The former may well be, as they are expensive futilities, but there is use for the latter, and those who draw the salaries thereof should be made to remain in them and to perform their duties. Ministers Eggo, Reld and Smith can well be spared at Santiago, Paris and St. Petersburg, but Consul New should be compelled to stay in London and look after the immense American commercial interests there. And still Mr. R posevelt, of the Civil Service Commission, aude President Harrison for the faithful execution of all the laws, including, of course, the civil service law !

CONGRESOMAN BLAND of Missouri may be a little off on the ellver question, but that he is level headed on some other things is demonstrated by the fact that he has, at least temporarily, abandoned the silver bill, and is now devoting his energies to the passage of a bill providing for an income tax sufficient to pay the $140,000,000 required for pension, which sum is now anualty exacted of the poor people of this country by tariff taxes on their necessaries of life. If the democrats in Congress have sense enough to pass such a bill they will win next November, no matter who may be the nomince of their party.-As nearly all the pension money goes to the North, it should certainly come from there, and more of it would, if the bill referred to should become a law. Of course the mugwumps would kick, but they would do so anyhow; as "it is their nature to."

THE Choespeake and Onio Railroad exists by means of its Virginia charter, and has profiled immensaly by the aid of Virginia; and yet its office in Washington refuses to sell tickets to this, a Virginia city, and when, as a special favor, a horried passenger for Alexandria is allowed a seat on its trains, that pass through and stop here, be is charged greatly in excess of the rates to longer distances, and just exactly twice as much as he would be if he could wait a quarter of an hour and take a train on one of the other roads. How's that for the isterstate commerce law? And how is it for the Virginia law? Alexandria's representatives in the Virginia legislature will be asked to attend to this matter at the next session of that body, and the attention of the Natural Bridge.

Session of that body, and the attention of the Natural Bridge.

The famous Sibley bill, to pay the heirs of

THE FACT that Mr. Harrison, of the nine judges of the new U. S. Court of Appeals, appointed two democrats, was sufficient to secure the adoption of a resolution, by the National Civil Service Reform League that met in Baltimore yesterday, declaring that "the President's judicial appointments are a elga of progress in the right direction." The resolution was introduced by Mr. Carl Schurz, after one by Mr. Eston, ex-Civil Service Commissioner, thanking the President for having appointed the two demooratic judges, had been defeated. And, all this, too, in the city in which Commissioner Roosevelt says the President allows the civil service law to be violated grossly with entire impunity. The whole thing is an absurd and grotesque humbug.

REPRESENTATIVE RAINES of New York says: "I think that Hill's chances are too liberally discounted. We who live in New York know Senator Hill better than he is known at Washington. The democratic party has not disposed of him yet. The country will hear of him again. We know that he is an exceedingly busy man, a tireless worker and a skillful organizer. I him until last spring, when he had been told myself expect that the Chicago convention will be greatly surprised at the number of votes he will have when the poll is called." If the Chicago convention be surprised, few of the best informed and most satute politiclans of the country will be, for all such men know how strong Senator Hill is with the rank and file of his party.

THE NEW YORK World, an anti-Hill news paper, says: "One of the points that stand out most prominently in all of David B. Hill's career is that he is a friend of the people, of the poor people. He was born poor and he is a poor man to-day. He has always, too, been a friend of labor." Yes, he is poor, and that, too, though he has been in politics all the years of his manhood, while his less brainy and less confident competitor, who entered politics about the same time, has become a rich man. Brains and audacity now, as in all times, in politics and in war, are the winning cards.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gasette.]

WARRINGTON, D. C., April 30, 1892. During a debate on a private pension bill in the House last night Mr. Waugh, of Indians, spoke of one of federal armies as the finest he had ever "eaw," and said he would be prouder of drawing a pension as a citizen of "I jiany" than of the highest commission in "the army of treason," Mr. Meredi.b, member from the Alexandria, Va., district, replied as follows: I want to ask the gentleman if it was fair, if it was chivalrous, and if is was brave in closing his speech, so elegantly prepared and so megnificently delivered, to make a little mean fling at this side of the House when we are veting pensions to his people? I have no doubt he was in the army from the manner in which he made his speech, and his warilke appearance upon the floor here to-night. I surp ot that he was at Bull Run, and I have no doubt be made a buily ran upon that occasion. [Laughter.] Lit me say to him that the war has been over for tairty years, and that brave men of both armies have assembled here, and this is the first time that I have heard so mean, so low, so contemptible a fling made at this side of the House.

There is a good deal of inquiry here for Alexandria property. The fact is real estate is so high here and so low there, and the distance so shore to Alexandria, and the fight between the two cities so cheap, that many sorts of industries and commercial business for this city can be carried on more profitably there than here. The inquirers referred to are not speculators, but people who intend to build and go into business in Alexandria.

As the Coast Line Railroad and Mr. Geo. Driver have agreed upon terms, the work of tearing down the building on the northwest corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 6.h etreet has been resumed. The building now occupied by Mr. Driver will also be torn down and the reilroad company will erect a magnificent building extending from 6.h street up to the Metropolitan Hotel.

In the House to day Mr. Meredith presented petitions of Thomas B. Stewart, of Fauquier county, for the estate of Charity Sincisir, and of Emily E. and Nancy B. Stewart, of the same county, for the reference of their war claims to the Court of Claims.

Col. Parsons, the leader of the anti-Mahone republicans in Virginia, was at the Capitol to-day. He says the anti Mahone republicans in his State were official y notified two weeks ago to take no part in the selection of delegates to the State republican convention, as under the present organiz: tion of the party there their voice would not be heard. He thinks the true republicans of the State should meet in every city ward and county district and elect delegates to a mass convention which should send a delegation of free republicane to Minneapolis. The Colonel says he believes Mr. Blaine would be nominated if he would take the requisite trouble, but that as he will not, the nomination will probably go to Harrison, McKinley, Lincoln or Reed, with chances in the older named. The Colonel says the boom towns in Vaginia have done the State no good, but that the foundations are still sound. He says the contract has been signed for an electric railroad from Glasgow to

At an investigation now being conducted by the House public lands committee, E. C. Waters testified this morning that he had come to Washington to secure certain leases from the then Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Vilas, but had accomplished nothing, and upon seeing that he could not get anything lone, he said to a friend that when another administration came in he could get the matter through. He acknowledged an acquaintance wi h Russell Harrison, and said nat at the time he thought he might inter cede in the matter and help him to get things fixed up. Upon close questioning by a member of the committee, witness said that $5,000 of stock was intended for Russell Harrison, but that he (Harrison) knew nothing about it. Mr. Harrison, however, was to give his aid purely for the public good, and did not know the stock was set aside for promised Russell Harrison the stock for his influence, and when he was told of it Mr. Harrison appeared very much embarrassed and said he would not have had the matter done for anything. Mr. Harrison told him, said Mr. Waters, that he would see Secreta ry Noble and lay the matter before him.

A republican from Norfolk here to day says the republican nomination for Congress in that distri.t lies between ex Congressman Bowden and Martin of Norfolk county, The attendance at the races yesterday was small and composed almost entirely of the male sex, in consequence of the rain, but that of to-day was large and fashionable.

The investigation of broken Keystone Bank of Philadelphic was continued to-day. Comptro.ler Lacey gave a history of the bank and of Postmaster General Wanamaker's unsavory connections with the series of the series of

ATTACE ON AMERICAN WOMEN.-The newspaper Modern Society of London, commenting upon Lady Somerset's praise of American women, takes occasion to make a most vile and despicable attack upon Amer

Club Men Quarrel.

That restless, ever-changing maelstrom of fashion popularly known as "Baltimore society, was all agog again yesterday, this time its impetuous movement was caused by no Fasching Thursday festival nor dolls' levee, but by a genuine scandal of the raciest | more. description-nothing less than the report of an insult which was said to have passed belars, but he also says if Mr. Cleveland be tween to prominent members of the exclusive inner circle.

The parties to the quarrel were General R. Boowden Andrews and ex State Senator C. Ridgeley Goodwin. Both gentlemen are unless the compenies pay their indebtedness widely known locally, if not nationally.

Both were distinguished officers in the Condense applied of the care in the Condense applied to the care in the federate service during the late war, and ALEXANDRIA. VA. of removing its central office from Atlanta. both have always been known as honorable men. The scene of the trouble was the Maryland Club, the occasion a large and important reception, and the witnesses of the effair are reported to have been a number of ladies and gentlemen. The story of the "affair" briefly is as follows: The reception of the club-a bril iant one, from all accounts-passed off with uninterrupted tranquility until the adjournment to the supper-room. Here, rumor has it, General Andrews became dissatisfied with the mild character of the liquid refre bments, and expressed his dissatisfaction at the absence from the board of champigne, which, owing to the large number of guests invited, the committee had thought best to omit from the menu.

General Andrews' indignation became more pronounced when, on applying for champagne at the bar, he found that department closed for the evening. On his return to the supper-room he strongly expressed his disapproval of this omission, his remarks being so worded as to east reflections upon the committee of arrangements. Finally, it is reported, General Andrews declared that he would make it a point to "insuit every member of the committee."

At this Mr. Goodwin, who was standing near, remarked that he was a member of the

"Toen sir. I'll begin with you!" General Andrews is said to ejeculated, at the same time in filling his threat by sispping Mr. Goodwin's face. The insulted gentleman is reported to have kept perfect'y cool, and to have turned on his heel with the remark that General Andrews would hear from him in the morning.

According to another version of the story, there were but few persons in the supper room when the trouble occurred and no blow was struck, the disagreeable occurrence being wholly an exchange of words.

To the credi: of the Maryland Club be it said, in this connection, all of its members seem bent on the preservation of club discipline. The air was full of rumors last night about swords and pistols for two, but it can be stated that the matter has been eatisfactorily settled. Members of the club sconted the idea of a meeting between the parties to the quarrel, and exerted all their individual and collective efforts toward eilending the tongue of rumor.

One of these was seen last evening by a newspaper representative, the result of the interview being an admission that Mr.Goodwin had been struck, and by Gen. Andrews; that the troub's occurred in the presence of ladies; that the memters of the club had discussed the occurrence very generally.

Major N. S. Hill, who is known to have been closeted with Gen. Andrews in the morning, declined court conely but firmly to say anything about the matter, confining his information to a langhing assurance that whatever trouble bad occurred-if any did occur-had been smicably adjusted to the entire entiefaction of all parties concerned. Visits to both Gen. Andrews and Mr. Goodwin proved fruit'ess, both of these gentlemen being reported "not at home."

The affair has caused more stir in the city

than anything that has happened for a long

> A WONDERFUL TIMEPIECE.-Japan is said to possess a timepiace exhibiting remarkable mechanical genius in its construction. It is contained in a frame throe feet wide and five feet long, representing a noonday landscape of great long, representing a moonesy landscape of great-beauty. In the foreground plum and cherry trees and rich plants appear in full bloom: in the rear-is seen a hill, gradual in ascent, from which ap-rarently flows a cascade, admirably imitated in crystal. From this point a thread-like stream meanders, encircling rocks and islands in its windings, and fically losing itself in a far-off stretch of woodland. In a miniature sky a golden stretch of woodland. In a miniature sky a golden sun turns on a silver wire, atriking the hours on silver genge as is passes. Each hour is marked on the fr. me by a cresping terioise, which serves the place of a hand. A bird of exquisite plumage warbles at the close of each hour, and, as the song ceases, a mouse sallies forth from a neighboring grotto, and scamparing over the hill to the garden, is soon lost to view.
